

Dobri Popov

Profile

Enthusiastic, adventurous, hardworking, and creative young gent looking for a change in career and a chance at trying my hand upon the remote/online world of jobs. I am eager & excited to get my first job working in the online space in whatever shape or form it may be. I enjoy working with a team, being challenged, and I am eager to learn and grow.

I am not afraid of a challenge and I am keen to get stuck in and learn new skills. I would love to join the online space due to the nature the job, working from the comfort of home, while still engaging in mentally stimulating work to keep me on my toes and keep the mind sharp.

Overall I have experience and background in the construction industry, yatching industry, service industry and graphic design. I lean more towards to the creative side of life, but I am no stranger to hard work. My experience in the above mentioned industries has given me a multitude of different skills & experience that I believe will be a asset to any industry, team or company.
